Official Programme

What's that float? Who is that person? What does that uniform mean? What's their connection to the City? For the answer to all these questions and more get a copy of the official Lord Mayor's Show programme 2023. It includes a profile of the new Lord Mayor, their aims and ambitions for the year ahead, a full running list of who is taking part in the Show and the history lying behind the event. Copies cost £5 and are available throughout the route, from the City Information Centre opposite St Paul's Cathedral and can also be pre-ordered online at iln.co.uk/lms2023

Girlguiding UK will be making sure none of the Show participants go hungry on the day by distributing lunch.

The Lord Mayor's Show is planned in partnership with the City of London Police. cityoflondon.police.uk

THE LORD MAYOR'S

MOIR 23

Saturday 11 November
From 11am It's free
lordmayorsshow.london

The oldest, biggest and best, free day out in London

There is nothing quite like the Lord Mayor's Show – the noisiest, largest and most colourful event in the City's calendar.

The Lord Mayor's Show brings the whole community of the City together - whether it's those who live, work, study or visit here – to cheer on those taking part in the three-mile long procession.

They will also welcome the Lord Mayor who in turn will be 'shown' to the people of the City, which is the original purpose of the Day and includes swearing an oath of allegiance to the sovereign at the Royal Courts of Justice.

The procession is built around the gold carriage in which the Lord Mayor travels and is accompanied by the Pageantmaster, City Marshal, Pikemen and Musketeers that reflect the Show's history which stretches back more than 800 years. They are joined by military bands and units, modern business city floats, community groups and charities in a blaze of colour and noise that show the modern face of the Square Mile.

In all this involves more than 7,000 people, 200 horses and around 150 floats travelling from Mansion House to the Royal Courts of Justice and back.

So come along and join the City's community and be a part of the noisiest, largest and most colourful event in the City's calendar.

and beyond...

The Show may be the centrepiece of the day but there's much more to enjoy – today or any day.

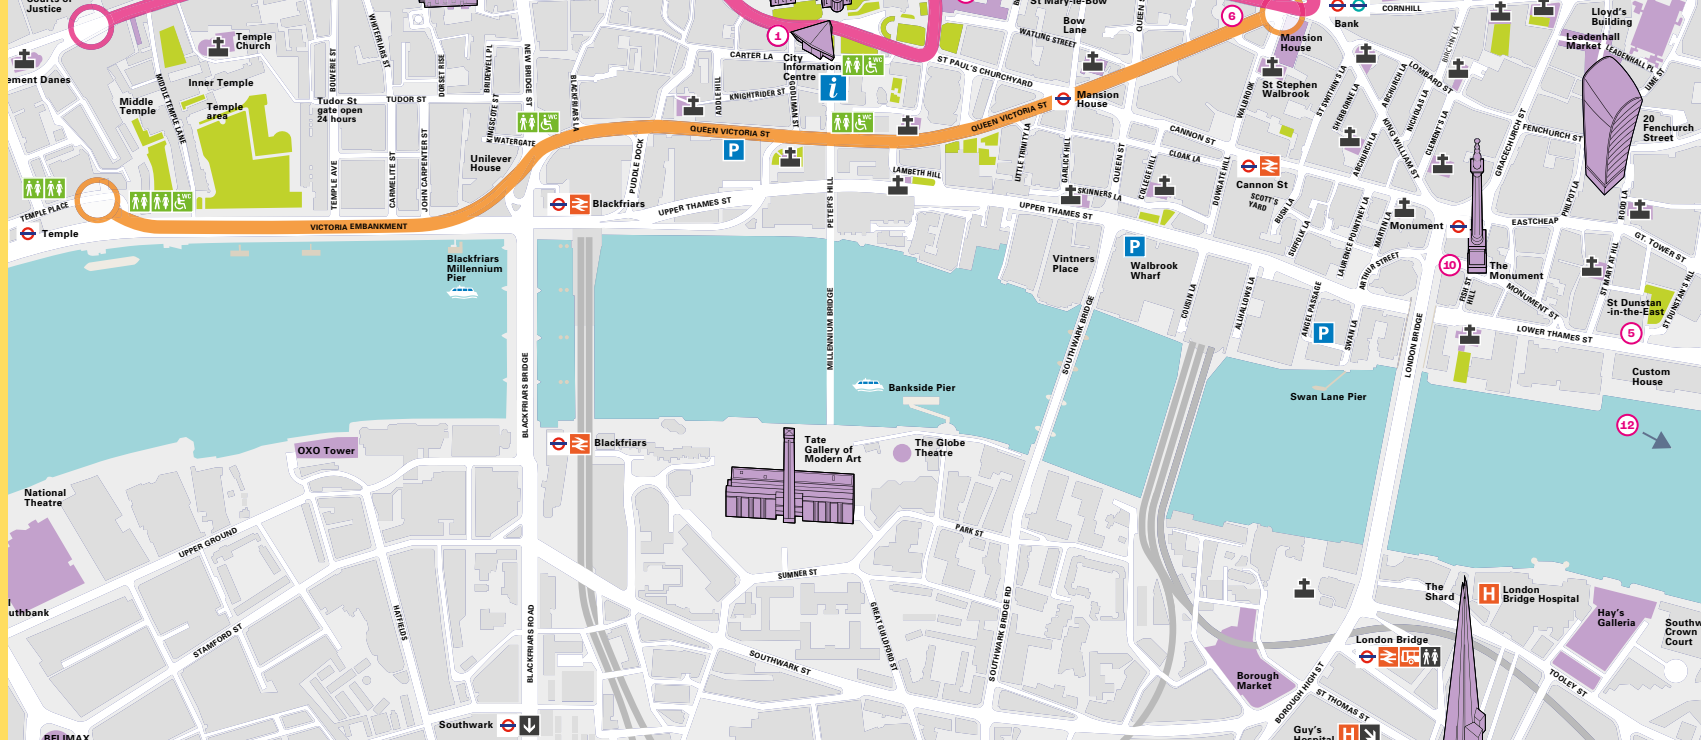

A major new website has been launched that showcases the best of the City's consumer offer to London, UK, and international visitors – promoting its world-leading culture, heritage, attractions, experiences, hotels, pubs, bars, and restaurants.

This is part of the City of London Corporation's flagship Destination City programme, which sets out a vision for the Square Mile to become a world-leading leisure destination for UK and global visitors, workers, and residents to enjoy.

The venues on this spread just scratch the surface of the wealth of venues and attractions that are available throughout the year. For more information visit www.thecityofldn.com

And look out for a new website/app going live over the Show weekend that will offer a new way to explore key buildings across the City and London as a whole. www.veracity.london
